What to do today

IMPORTANT Parent or Carer – Read this page with your child and check that you are happy with what they have to do and any weblinks or use of internet.

1. Read a poem

- Read Spaghetti Spaghetti. Read it twice: once in your head and once out loud.
- What do you like about the poem? What patterns can you notice? Which is your favourite phrase?

2. Learn Poetic Terms

- Read What is an ode? and Poetry Terms.
- Use Check the Terms to check how well you can remember each of these words. You can write notes on the sheet.

3. Read and think about poems

- Read three more poems: Apple Pie, Ode to an Olive and Ode to a Chestnut on the Ground.
- Read and think about each of the Reflection Prompts. Find someone who will listen to your answers and discuss them.
- Annotate the poems to show your favourite phrases in each.

Try this Fun-Time Extra

- Pick your favourite poem from today and practise reading it aloud. Read the Reading Aloud Tips to help you. You could record your reading and share it with somebody else.
- Try to learn part or all of one of these poems off-by-heart.

Spaghetti Spaghetti!

Spaghetti! Spaghetti!
you're wonderful stuff,
I love you spaghetti,
I can't get enough.
You're covered with sauce
and you're sprinkled with cheese,
spaghetti! spaghetti!
oh, give me some please.

Spaghetti! Spaghetti! piled high in a mound, you wiggle, you wriggle, you squiggle around. There's slurpy spaghetti all over my plate, spaghetti! spaghetti! I think you are great.

Spaghetti! spaghetti!
I love you a lot,
you're slishy, you're sloshy,
delicious and hot,
I gobble you down
oh, I can't get enough,
spaghetti! spaghetti!
you're wonderful stuff.

Jack Prelutsky

What is an ode?

- A form of poem which praises something or someone
- They often speak to their subject
- They use formal, emotional language
- They build strong images
- They use hyperbole (exaggeration)

Ode to an Olive

Oh Olive,

You are as precious to me as any gem,
With your beautiful, pure skin as smooth as silk
And as green as the grass in summertime.

I love your taste and the smell of your tender fruit Which hides beneath your green armour.

Olive, sweet, tasty Olive,

How I love you so and my mealtimes wouldn't be the same If you weren't in my life.

Oh Olive,

Nothing can compare to you, nothing at all,

You are food of the gods, a king's riches

And, most importantly, you are mine, oh Olive!

Ode to a Chestnut on the Ground

From bristly foliage
you fell
complete, polished wood, gleaming mahogany,
as perfect
as a violin newly
born of the treetops,

that falling
offers its sealed-in gifts,
the hidden sweetness
that grew in secret
amid birds and leaves,
a model of form,
kin to wood and flour,
an oval instrument
that holds within it intact delight, an edible rose.

In the heights you abandoned the sea-urchin burr that parted its spines in the light of the chestnut tree; through that slit you glimpsed the world, birds bursting with syllables, starry dew below, the heads of boys and girls, grasses stirring restlessly, smoke rising, rising.

Pablo Neruda
